

Keeping in touch - Devices concerned with communication

Moderately open briefs

- Design and make a communication device that utilises the ability to receive and transmit radio signals
- Design and make a communication device that utilises the ability to receive and transmit infra red signals
- Design and make a communication device that utilises the ability to receive and transmit light signals

Closed briefs

- Design and make an intercom device that will enable two elderly, house bound people living in adjacent flats to keep in touch
- Design and make a simple radio that will enable a visually impaired person to receive programmes from different channels